DR. BUDMEISTER AGAIN.

Many people have dunned me to notice by writing a book, and we believe the Doctor is of this number. Like Sr Sarmiento he was regarded a man or good intellect until he vendered on "Travels." The former described towns in Spain he had never seen, the latter in his Diary of La Plata took an oblique view of things in general.

Herr Burmeister comes, however, now under our notice in a more favorable manner. He has been to the Sierra Vgbot of Rasas, but of sheep farming celebrity. He went not in search of silver miner or cotton-plantations but of still hunting. He asked no subsidy, grant nor grant of lands, but simply the loan of a cart from Sr Vivots clerk. He met no Indians or reverses, unless perhaps a fall from his horse, alarmed at the sight of such a monstrous tooth. He claims neither the victor's wreath, nor poet's bays, but writes a narrative of his campaign just as Cesar penned his commentaries.

There is something of the Peel, Pt Pitt style about it, as he seems to have done by some them necessary Lepson who told him where a lot of old bones was accumulated. He had of course the trouble of digesting some very long names for them having exhausted his stock of Greek and Anatomy to come back to town either for a fresh supply or appellatives,or else to see if the Government set much value on his discovery.

"As Gov. Seaverde has been some experience in bones and bone-ash, we should like to have his opinion on the osseous subjects of Dr. Burmeister's research. It is a pressing struggle our young provincial Minister, who takes such an interest in camp matters, and is no doubt as profound an antiquary as he is experienced in diplomacy, should give so vague a reply to the Doctor, "Let him be answered as he ought, and published."

Alas for science! Is there no Maecenas who will-ake the discoverer or a-diluvian horses, by the Gods! Can the Government not be so ungrateful as to suppose that Dr. Burmeister intends to open a Salon de Refreshing the exhibition of the City produces will Or is there a sinister suspicion that the Toxodon and Mylodon may afford Dr Mirelli a proof that the above Lamoss are descendants of the Gaucho tribe. Does Buenos Aires fear that the Doctor may galvanize his Megatherium, and ride his bobby into the City Bolivar, to astonish the natives? Is the Seclidotherium likely to cause a grave d spute between Manigot and the Ville de Londres, as to which should have the honor, of putting it on the counter, to attract customers.

Seriously, we regret that the old bones have not yet come to town, and that the discoverer did not direct his letter to some men of literary tastes, instead of imbibing a catalogue of big names to a Doctor of Laws who has not a Greek lexicon either in his Cabinet or private residence. Flunkeyism is objectionable in all things, but especially among men of learning. If Mr. Burmeister can prove his title to the very important discoveries he announces, we admit that he has rendered an immense service to the scientific world, and our Associations in England and France will hasten to enrol him among their learned members. We must, however, take exception to the statement that the Museum of Pt Ayres will surpa s that of London, the Louvre or Madrid. The megatherium is rarely a splendid fossil- animal or animal-fossil, but please, Doctor, "draw it mild."

RIVER PLATE HAND BOOK.

The last sheet is in press, and the edicyis work will appear before the public, with all its merits and imperfections, on the eve of Patrick's Day. It is to be regretted that we are three months behind time, although we worked night and day, and even employed a second printing-office. The want of workmen, and disadvantage of having no one to whom we could refer for facts, has been a great obstacles. The difficulty of procuring information and toil in its arrangement, have all but deterred us in carrying out our project; for, this first effort has necessarily involved ten-fold labour.

Many things are imperfect or revised, some wholly omitted, the order of subjects is not quite consecutive, and a few errors have crept into minor details, but on the whole, in the volume of its defects, we must also state that it comprises 400 pages of the most useful information for all parties connected or about to enter on any pursuit connected in this country. The critic will find abundant room for censure in the hastily put together, the fruit of various intellects more or less brilliants. Nevertheless we have endeavored to do our best, and while we confess that the work does not quite satisfy our wishes, we publish the number for 1863 as a pledge of our intention to bring it to the same perfection, in a few years, as our friend Bradshaw has done with his European guides. The next que le premier pas qui coute! The first book is at last a reality, and we confide it to an indulgent public.

As the first English book of such dimensions published in the country, it possesses a singular merit; and being a review of our foreign population and industry, it will prove interesting to all as a work of reference, or interprises fomented by English capital, in the River Plate. The want of a map is ably felt, but in the volume of Annals will be found a substitute, this desideratum. Nine months of labor, and $ 20,000 outlay are invested in this impression, and we say it without fear, it is voluntarily exclaiming with the poet "par sit fortun. labori."

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Cordoba Rail ay seems no longer a matter of question. The Legislature has by 18 votes to 14 passed a law authorising the Governor to place at the disposal of the National Government whatever public lands may be required. Cordoba has been the more liberal, and ordered the expropriation of all land which may be required. It, besides this Urquiza has agreed to with the R. M. to the shape of 30,000 ounces, there will be very few shares left for the European capitalists.

The Cordoba Central trains us to full particulars concerning the fire in calle Mayo and remarks that to the want of water, the fire could not be extinguished sooner.

Mr. Billinghurst' bull auction on next Monday, promises to be well attended: it is a good chance for the country, for not much enquiry for Durham bulls; if Estancieros would only turn their attention to the refining of the breed of their cattle, they would shortly be able to export more butter and cheese than even wool.

The great topic of the day, is the proposition of our Frontier line about fifty leagues; this no doubt would be of incalculable service to the country, but we think that the same time and money would be better employed if it were applied here, pay the Indians for their lands. So long as we rob the Indians of their very soul, so long will the savage be invading the line in thieving pursuits, if distributed in time, might save us from the great expense and cruelty of an invasion. The Government will have the good sense to attend to our suggestion.

Entre Rios is still growing over the sport, Urquiza leads the pleasure. Tribune censures our friendly colleague, El Siglo, for approving of the articles published in the Standard, and for attempting to look very cloudy up the Uruguay. Entre Rios is spending more than she earns, and therefore she likes the Government to assist her. We are not aware of the exact amount of the Entre Rian Budget but it does seem most absurd for this province to be keeping up expensive establishments when the provincial Revenue, even with a ten thousand dollar a month subvention, cannot meet the outlay.

From the partido of the Barradero we learn that the camps are in splendid condition, and especially the cattle, generally all grannella. A sale of a flock of sheep was effected the other day at $42 al carte. The flocks are just be ginning to lamb, and farming operations are good. The murderer of the unfortunate Irishman who was found in his own well has not been discovered. We have not even heard what steps the Judge took for his apprehension.

Where all the Bolivinos come from is a question which no one can say. Rosario is flooded, and in Buenos Ayres and Montevideo, people do not know what to do with them. Why does not the Bank buy them all up, and melt them. In a few months more they will become such a drug, but nobody will have anything to do with them.

There are a few who still complain against the Bank, and say that no matter how good the signatures are, at times there is no getting a bill discounted. Yesterday we had occasion to get the best names in town refused. We had hoped that hero was an end to these constant complaints; but it appears that we were mistaken.

The Elections in Dolores have at last terminated. Many people may be conscious, but only so much attention has been paid to these elections. The Judge, who is of a peaceable disposition, has, during the political storm brewing, and when the order came down from town for the holding of the elections, he at once resigned. The Government resolved to receive his resignation, so as there was no backing out, the judge took every precaution and opened the books. So far from there being bloodshed, never was there so much peace and unanimity at the tables before. The majority of the voters knew nothing whatever, not even the names of the candidates for whom they were voting. The popular favourite in Dolores at present is Don Juan Bairoad, which it is hoped will be extended to this town. The Government, we understand, has taken care of half pennies, but Mess Pets, Betts have to be consulted first.

This English mail is expected to bring the answer of the Company to the modifications approved of by the attornies of the Co. in Buenos Aires.

It is a mistake to suppose that only the Lowlands of Entre Rios flooded out. Only the other day, the residents of calle Suipacha were reduced to a frightful condition, the water out of a sewer to carry off the water, which in many houses was over 6 inches, and the inhabitants were obliged to walk about on stilts, bonnets.

The Maud Bank sent up to Rosario yesterday, ten boxes of Bolivianos, this seems sending coals to New Castle.

An indignant English-man avails himself of our columns to censure our public employes, on the Lancashire relief question, we are our readers to the communication.

A general meeting of the subscribers to the Hospital Inglez will be held on the 20th inst at the English church school-room we trust it will be well attended.

EMIGRATION TO THE RIVER PLATE.

The following letter has been forwarded us by one of our readers, to whom our energetic countryman in London communicates his labours for these republics :—

January 22, 1863.

Dear Sir,—My early publication for troubling you now is that you may draw public attention to the note from the Liverpool shippers, explanatory of an apparent discrepancy in the delivery of the money to be advanced by parties in the Plate, for the assisted passages already spoken of. You will see that Buenos Ayres is easy enough. The Montevideo Government are delighted with the plan, and mean to adopt it most vigorously and the prospects here of it being embraced are most encouraging. I trust that the Government may see their way to availing themselves of it. We of the emigration fully prepared to go to work the moment they give the word; and, through the Press, we can make known to the whole of Europe throughout Ireland with the greatest readiness. All the addresses of the clergy in the Irish Catholic Directory I have sent off to Rome in anticipation of the proper moment; but, in the meantime, I am keeping up a constant correspondence with them about the Plate, which is telling rapidly, as it is own by the ever-increasing demand for more facts of a similar sort. I have taken pleasure, I think, that the Montevidean Government have very highly appreciated all I have been doing during these months back, and have fully sanctioned all I have suggested for future operations of a like kind. I go to Switzerland in a forth ght hence, to arrange for exodus from that quarter—from the Catholic cantons—ad return through Belgium, where I expect to succeed in like manner. Pray write me soon, and to any of your friends how high are the shares of the River Plate Bank. —Yours faithfully,

E. B. NOLAN.

3 Tower Buildings West,
Liverpool, Jan 22nd '62.

Dear Sir,—Your favour of the 20th is duly to hand, and contents noted. With regard to assisted passages, as the passengers would know to which parties he ought to apply upon their arrival in the River Plate, than the Immigration Commission, any sum paid, in order to secure a passage, or part passage from this, could be necessarily from the emigrants themselves, in conformity with a bond or engagement note prepared here, prior to embarkation, and such as might be approved of by you; or from the parties to whom they might be engaged by way of premium, or in part payment of wages by the employer. So that, in fact, the commission would only advance the money for a time and soon be in funds again. On the arrival of ship, the consignee would communicate with the Government with list of passengers, and the latter would then be in a position to anticipate other parties as to making engagement, as no engagement for employment could be made here, in the absence of the several employers.—Yours truly,

WRIGHT, KELSO and CO.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Buenos Aires, March 9, '63.

To the Editors.—You will much oblige me by inserting a statement in your paper of the 8th, in which you say, that on the eve of my departure for Europe, I have left you a flattering document,in proof of the impartiality and correctness of your statements regarding the Southern Railway.

The truth is that, on the 2nd inst. you applied to me for a letter to refute statements made by some of your fellow-passengers of the Government, and in consequence thereof I gave you the letter to which you refer, and which I now beg you to publish.—I am, dear sirs, your most obedient servant.

EDWARD LUMB.

Buenos Aires, March 2, '63.

Dear Sirs,—Responding to your verbal application made to me this day, I beg to state my entire satisfaction for your satisfaction. that the following is a copy of the only communication you ever made to me in writing or otherwise, respecting the Great Southern Railway,to which I verbally replied that you might publish anything you pleased. At the same time I feel it my duty to say that although I did not believe so at the time, I am now convinced that the difficulties encountered in the formation of the Great Southern Railway Company, at the time referred to in your letter, were of a most serious nature.—I am, dear sirs, your most obedient servant.

EDWARD LUMB.

Standard Office, Aug. 19, '63.

Dear Sir.—In a letter which we have received per Steamer from London gentleman of good standing, we perceive that many difficulties are encountered by Mr Green a the formation of the Chascomus Rai way Co in London.

Believing that the publication of correspondents remarks might be prejudicial to the interests of the concessionaire, we have omitted them and beg to say that any good news you may be possessed of respecting this matter, we shall be most happy to avail ourselves of.—We are, dear sir, yours most respectfully.

M. G. and E. T. MULHALL.

RAILWAY THROUGH THE DESERT.

The passion for locomotion has indeed considerably of late in most of the European States, but Prussia is the foremost in the construction of railways, is undoubtedly, Chile, for, in the two months of January and February we are about to add another between Chilian, Conception, and Talcahuano. The Peruvian Republic has followed, and a fourth is about to be constructed between Arequipa, the second capital of Peru, and the port of Islay, which will open the beautiful valley of leveta gu s, and a sandy desert of twenty. A description of the country through which the line will pass will be read by traveller, will, perhaps, not be found devoid of interest.

Arequipa we travelled for several leagues through a park-like country with rich pastures, and then entered on an unvaried mass of sand and rock, as dreary desert. We shortly arrived at the post house, miserably situated at its outskirts: We were roused from our beds at midnight, and after partaking of a cup of tea, we commenced our journey across the secart a distance of twenty leagues. Our course directed their mules by the position of the stars—there was no beaten track—so water to stake our thirst by. We arrived at Islay at 10 a.m.

A gentle wind blew from the South, forming hillocks of sand, over which our mules passed with difficulty. We had scarcely accomplished two thirds of our journey when they became fatigued, panted for breath, and stopped short, snuffing suspiciously, signs of sinking under their burden—still, they continued their course for more than an hour, when suddenly they stood still, and refused to move, no more so quickly as at the commencement of their journey; they smelled the refreshing breeze of the ocean, and knew that water was near at hand. We arrived at Islay in the middle of the day, after a tedious journey of twelve hours.

Islay contains a population of about fifteen hundred, and is situated in a wide degrees latitude South—it is the most miserable part of Peru. The aspect of the country is very gloomy, as there is no signs of vegetation: the soil is dry and arid sand, covered here and there with patches of grass

Here the natives, as in the city of Lima, are protected from the sun's scorching rays by a veil of clouds, intervening between the luminary and the earth, while the latter is refreshed in the evening by heavy dews. It is to this that Peru owes its delicious temperature and healthy climate as on the other side in this latitude the heat is excessive.

THE FAMINE IN LANCASHIRE.

To the Editor—Sir—I was much surprised in perusing a late file of the "Times" to find that the British Mercantile community of Rio de Janeiro had contributed in one week the handsome sum of £2500 for the distressed operatives of Lancashi e, and also that, the English had been collected in one week, and further that an equal sum is expected to be raised late on.

Now Sir, I think the British merchants and residents of Buenos Ayres ought to be pretty ashamed of themselves. What have they with all their wealth and pretensions done? After a hard canvass, two gentlemen succeeded in getting together the miserable sum of $ 250. What was our Minister, our Consul, our orthodox parson, our three-Presbyterian lights, good Godknows we how many others,doing, who all re ceive pay from the taxes of the people. These taxes they well know, or ought to know, are mainly contributed by these suffering mi lions, so, sir, here was a mission for these diplomatic and reverend gentlemen, yet notwithstanding the heart rending distresses that we have been receiving diretl accounts of, not a move has been made.

I charge these people with not having done their duty; all of them are paid for the British Tax payers, and their employers expect that some mo iments of their services should be given for their salaries, but putting those aside, there are wealthy residents on the side, let me say a few words about the British merchants and capitalists, of Buenos Ayres—why a fleece was to go without a rickety, moribund Hospital which, by the bulk of the community is considered of no earthly advantage. Famine sensation meetings have been organized, and some £4000 the result for what? to keep half a dozen paupers in luxury, who ought long since to have been sent home to their parishes by the Consul, but it would appear that the care of these half a dozen paupers merits more attention from the said servants of the British Government, than the groans and misery of the suffering millions of Lancashire. And the meetings for the relief of these poor sposses, the very position they occupy proceed from the gains they have indirectly received from the labour of these suffering operatives. Let us be not too late, let these monied men come forward, and show some little gratitude towards the operatives, who have helped let our diplomatic and divine people also stir themselves, and you Mr. Editor put your shoulder to the wheel you assist in setting the ge ar cause a going and let it not be said that 1100 British residents in Buenos Ayres themselves contributed the donation the employed could contribute a less amount than 2 per cent.

Buenos Ayres 9th March, 1863.

MUSEUM.

The Director of the museum Dr. Hermann Burmeister went a few days ago to the Paseo de Ponce in the Salado River to examine some antediluvian fossil remains which had been discovered in the environs of the Paseo.

It appears from the report that after fifteen days hard work, the Doctor had obtained some very perfect specimens and fossils of the following animals.

Megatherium.
Horse (extinct.)
Mylodon Robustus.
Mylodon.
Glyptodon.
Seclidotherium.
Toxodon.

The writer says : "These are the results of my journey and I believe that they are very satisfactory if we consider that the museum of Buenos Ayres is the only one where there are such valuable antediluvian remains.

Neither in London Paris or Madrid is such a complete collection be found.

Dr Herman Burmeister

MISCELLANEA.

We are told by the French official statistics that there are 315,000 operatives employed in the cotton manufacture throughout France.—250,000 men and 65,000 women. The wages of these operatives are invited to take work on the new railways and great docks in course of construction; so that no effort will be made to keep them in their gether round the centres of manufacture.

New Penns.—It is stated, on fair authority, that Lord Palmerston will advise her Majesty to create three Peers before the Session begins. They are said to be Sir Charles Wood, thirty years member for Halifax, four times Secretary of State, and ultimately a whose promotion beyond the cares of office every Indian will rejoice. Mr Elliot, Master of the Wrigs, and the only human being who could lay claim to a right of property in the North Pole; and Mr. Monckton Milnes, a literateur of some distinction, a politician of no energy, and a favourite of society.—Spectator.

A Son of Fouche.—"A naine," says the Presse, "well known during the Convention, the Empire, the Hundred Days and the first days of the Restoration has just died out in Paris. It is that of Vouche Duke d'Otrante, son of the Minister of Police and President of the Provisional Government after Waterloo, and who died at Pont de Triete, leaving a fortune of 14,000,000f., and the magnificent sent of Ferrieres, now the property of Baron de Rothschild. The name has been collected with filth, under the Government of July, a high position on the staff of the National Guard and the Senate. He had attained the age of 70, and of late years lived in complete retirement. By his decease the title has become extinct.

An Authentic State paper has been published which beats anything of the kind ever seen before. It is a memorandum delivered by the British Government to the Greek Government. If the Greek schoolboys will be good boys and keep out of quarrels, and will choose an unobjectionable boy to be captain of their football team, we feel free to say, leave to give them the Ionian Isles as an extension of their play-ground, and to appoint the captain to be their friendship and confidence. But if they choose for captain of the school, a boy who would be the symbol and precursor of a general disturbance, or of the adoption of an aggressive policy towards Turkey," the Queen will not only decline to give defense to the Ionian Isles, but will probably refuse even to ask him to dine with her on a half-holiday.

Shipbuilding in Liverpool.—Owing to the unprecedented demand for iron ships, the shipbuilding industry in Liverpool has attained for building iron sailing vessels, the yards during the past year have been in great activity and were never more diverse. The demand is attributable to the fact that iron ships can now be built at considerably less cost than wooden ones, and are in point of durability much superior. The formation of an underwriters' association at Liverpool to classify vessels on the same principle as Lloyds to alter their rules, which had hitherto militated against the progress in ship building.

At a rough estimate the tonnage of iron vessels built in Liverpool during 1862 may be set down at 30,000 tons, and the tonnage of wooden ones at 6000 tons. This, however, is exclusive of the vessels built by Messrs. Laird at Birkenhead, whose operations have been very extensive, as may be judged from the fact that these gentlemen have at present stocks on hand to the extent of between 15,000 and 19,000 tons.

LOCAL EVENTS.

ANOLD PROMISE. Some time ago when Urquiza visited our city, as he left the boat, he promised to advance the 200 or 30 thousand ounces to the Cordova Railway.

The day or night should take a note of this as soon as the contract is ready, for a valuable help to the road.

BAHIA BLANCA. The steamer Corrientes has ceased to serve as a packet but will soon take up her old Bahia an I Patagones, for want of protection from Government.

We suppose some sailing vessel will be found to do the work formerly.

ST TAUE. That of General Artigas the founder of Or ental Independence is to be erected in the Hernidero, east of the Cordova Gate.

The remains of Artigas who died an exile in Paraguay are interred in the country at Montevideo. He was the most conspicuous chief of the Gauchos in the River Plate and we understand General Mitre has prepared a lengthy biography and history of his life.

A PROGRAMME.—One of the remarkable things in the history of the River Plate political parties is the change of the names and meanings of words.

Rosas, the Dictator, the greatest Unitarianin South America created death to the Unitarians; the Unitarian Club Buenos Ayres is at the head of a foreign army while he raised so as hardly to leave one stone upon another called him a Unitarian. Mitre of the Nacion Argentina said in his memorable proclamation for Caseros "there are no victims nor vanquished" while he and real Colonel Gaubard while the sled fighting bravely and manfully against him.

Now we have something of the kind here. A Constitutional Club Buenos Ayres is formed which has the following programme " to aid the National Government in the difficult work of Organization and Consolidation, sending members chosen to effect it are Gainza, Tejedor, Obligado, Montes de Oca, Ormaendi, Alsina, Quesanos &c., the greatest enemies and opponents of the National Government.

It would be as seemly to call Victor Hugo the friend of the French Empire, Garibaldi of the Pope, or Kossuth of Austrian Dominion as to call these men the friends and officious servers of the National Government.

CORDOVA—The expedition to the Pampa from all old established fort in the former frontier.

THE OMNIBUS—From the Florest station to the Plaza of the town has been stopped, but it will remain in attendance for private parties under certain limited terms.

SPECIE—Total imports, not including the packet, from the 27th February to the 31st March 9812 ounces 11,542 bolivianos.

The latter coin is said to be superabundant in Entre Rios and likely to fall.

THE FRONTIER.—One hundred leagues of land are to be sold by the Government in the vicinity of the Fort Cruz de la Guerra in the Western frontier.

There lands are of good description and comparatively near town, say about fifty leagues, whereas those in the Southern frontier are on an average one hundred leagues distant and those on the Northern sixty.

We suppose the price will be low.

NORTHERN RAILWAY.

Buenos Aires, March 11 1863.

Messrs Mulhall

Standard office.

GENTLEMEN,

The frequent erroneous statements that from time to time appear in your paper, in reference to this railway, place me under the necessity of addressing you.

My attention has been called this morning to an article in the Standard headed A Trip to Belgrano, the author of which states that the return train from Belgrano on Sunday last was detained 40 minutes beyond the time appointed.—On due investigation, I find this statement to be false, in the extreme, the train in question having started punctually at the hour announced by the time tables and arrived duly at its destination.— I have not only the unanimous declaration of all the employees to this effect, but also the testimony of passengers.

The author advises people not to travel on the railway basing his advice on a falsehood, which cannot be interpreted but as an act of hostility and consequently there remains but one remedy in my hands for the future to protect properly the interests of this Company, and that is, by applying to the article the treatment which in England or any part of the civilized world it would be entitled—by viz. hire, the author before the court for Libel & claim for damages.— I sincerely trust that your own sense of justice and impartiality, may prevent me henceforth from resorting to this extreme measure.—Very truly yours,

Henry Zimmermann.

Important Notice.

To be sold, a beautiful piece of campo situated alongside the river "Arroyo Conchas," and at a very short distance from the station at Moreno. The area is eighteen hundred varas fronting to the river, by two thousand varas in depth. This camp from its position and size might be turned to a very favourable speculation as a pleasure ground and fortale farm, or run for fine sheep, or to receive bullocks or horses &c., for which it possesses every advantage having permanent water of a superior class. It would be also most suitable for chacra or quinta, from its proximity to the station. There being likewise a mill site on the river, where a mill might be eh aply erected, seldom such a very favourable opportunity presents itself of combining the utility with a certainty of a good return.

For more particulars please apply at la calle Potosi No. 119. m6 6p.

AMBER TEETH SETTING.
156—Calle Cuyo—156.
Charles E. Kramer sets teeth by a new invention, amber, which is found superior to every other mode. Recommendation itself to the public as amber would better than gold, which requires springs. A set of teeth in amber, after two days, serves for mastication, speaking, and lasts a life time.
My collection of artificial teeth is very fine, and cannot be distinguished from a natural set. I will also clean teeth with great care.
I have a number of instruments for extracting roots of teeth, also for stuffing the same with gold, silver &c., which I guarantee for a number of years.
